

In low-income countries, food prices are low, but expenditure on food accounts for a large share of consumption

Food Expenditure Share (GDP=100) and Price Level Index (World =100) by Income group

